... and in the pale twilight as it transits to nightgloom the last rays of sun pick out the spinning of the dust ... its patterns ... as it floats and twines with memory into space ... never landing but touching ... no one place to commit ... each particle its own maker and made ... each its own journey through space and time ... vast halls full of memory dust

its shapes

space of probability

i do not know its geography except i know it well i am aware there are vague ghosts here of somewhere else's pasts perhaps there is an unrecognized map implanted in memory i know that we dream this / a dream of the present / tomorrow / out of time / a reassessment something

a storyline begins

is this a plot or a sub-plot i authored the script

with no words

the feelingpictures behind the pictures the feeling pictures of height and weight and the unknown the feelingpictures of the virgin ground and the rarity of pure air the feelingpictures of distance with thin-ness the feelingpictures of unfathomed exploration of distance it is an anomaly it challenges the vision of imagination the rarity of pure air has a quality of deception for sometimes it is ... the feelingpictures have been sensed they change with the colour and the strength of the rarity of pure air they have the caste of certain other colours ... but they have no solidity / sound

space of manifestation

the body the ghostly moment comes upon it the form of the present through time the form making the actual ... mapping... tension ... image ... language ... translation ... transition ... affect ... engage with the past ... memory ... old manuscript new music ... appropriation ... anxiety and guilt ...metaphors ... symbols ... decay ...reproduction ... filling the void ... space ... boundaries ...sharing ... multiplicity ... look don't touch ...secrets ...evidence ...connection ...

spectres

the past is a spectre a ghost a remnant haunting the present the present is not self-present it is a mutual haunting and a ghostly moment naming

begins

with the trace

the body from dust

in the presence of self-present it makes itself possible pregnancy of the moment the possibility of causality of artifice

only in sleep is there definition she remakes the world by naming the opaque is clear inside the building there are layers of a hundred years all sound distilling to essence it has seeped into her body harsh fierce light has no brightness shadow or falter walls are poems telling other lives from behind one wall a possibility traces itself lines and shapes suggest themselves sometimes with a little colour images overlay each other and fade leaving the thought of a stain before they try another sequence on another wall possibilities intermingle sometimes colour seems to bring them together at others a shimmer of suggestion to do with a faint line or the beginnings of a shape a word transposes itself and becomes a filigree tracing of something else she drips with sweat and provokes image to being a far wall gathers to itself a series of lines colours shapes sounds it develops consistency she can see the moving feeling picture define itself as it becomes framed by a border of being it has a catalogue number and a title the feeling picture is already making adjustments to its original feeling she is sucked in surrounded by the feeling picture it has called itself ...
